Emergency Relief Campaign for Lebanon

The terrible explosion on 4 August 2020 that devastated the city of Beirut is a major crisis for the people of Lebanon. They desperately need our prayers and support.

The three Christian hospitals close to the port, including the 600-bed St. George Hospital, have been severely damaged and evacuated. Consequently, Lebanon's health care facilities are overwhelmed.

I continue to be amazed by the generosity of the people of our diocese when disasters like this occur, and ask you to support emergency relief efforts for the people of Lebanon. Through collections that will be taken up in our parishes, we will work with the Canadian Catholic Organization for Development and Peace – Caritas Canada to ensure the funds collected are safely delivered. Development and Peace is working in collaboration with Caritas members in the region.

Donations made for this relief effort before August 24th are eligible to be matched. As a member of the Canadian Foodgrains Bank, Development and Peace will be participating in a matching fund launched by the Canadian Government and the Humanitarian Coalition to help the people of Lebanon.

In the Diocese of London, funds are to be collected at the parish level.

- You can place cash or a cheque (payable to St. Patrick's Church) in the collection basket. Please mark the envelope with "Lebanon".
- You can also make your donation online or by e-transfer to your parish. Please include "Lebanon" in the message field.

Please pray for the victims and their families. Your prayers, generosity, and assistance are greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Rev. Ronald P. Fabbro, C.S.B.

MISSION AND BEING A MISSIONARY PARISH

Simply put, the mission of the Church is the Mission of Jesus Christ. Parishes are called to be “missionary” — not to foreign countries — but first of all to those immediately around them. This is the new evangelization, initiated by Blessed Paul VI, spoken to us so often by St. John Paul II, Pope Benedict XVI, and most recently, Pope Francis. This mission of evangelization, of proclaiming and living the gospel message, belongs to every baptized member of the Church:

“Evangelizing is in fact, the grace and vocation proper to the Church, her deepest identity. She exists in order to evangelize” (Evangelii Nuntiandi, 14). In all our words and deeds we are, each of us, called to proclaim the Good News.

What is a “missionary parish”?

To begin with, a missionary parish reaches out to non-Christians by welcoming them and sharing the Good News with them. It also is a mission to other Catholics who no longer actively practice their faith, as well as to other Christians. A missionary parish is a welcoming environment for any and all who come to it, regardless of race, ethnic origin, social status or personal situation.

A missionary parish is also one that educates and forms its members in the faith so that they can live their discipleship completely. This includes preparing adults and children to celebrate the sacraments fully and fruitfully; training people for leadership roles in the community; and forming parishioners to recognize and undertake works of service and justice in the town, city or region where the parish is located.

Lastly, a missionary parish continues to spiritually strengthen parishioners to live their faith boldly and to share it through witness and outreach to others. A parish marked by a missionary spirit is one in which its presence in society is made visible and lasting through involvement in social projects, particularly those that serve our brothers and sisters who are poor and marginalized, and promote everyone’s right to life and the blessings due to every human person. A parish that is “missionary-oriented” is one where witness of word is matched by witness of life.

This missionary focus is already to be found in many ways and in many instances in our parishes. It must, however, increase and become the main characteristic of life in all our parishes if they are to be what they are really meant to be — communities engaged in the mission given to the Church by Jesus himself, to make it possible for others to experience life in the Kingdom of God in our time and in this place.

The Church’s mission must be at the core of what we do. Our mission calls us to:

- Go out and preach the Good News and to baptize (Mt 28:19-20)
- Serve those in need (Mt 25:31-45)
- Work for the liberation of all people especially those most in need (Lk 4)
- Give a reason for our hope (1 Pt 3:16).

We all need to become comfortable talking about our faith. We also need to be in the habit of living our faith. The commandment to go out and make disciples (cf. Mt 28:19-20) is a commandment to go out and live the whole Gospel.

Every committee and organization is called first and foremost to live the mission of the Church. Does the mission of the Family of Parishes echo the mission of the Diocese, of the Catholic Church? Does every committee and organization (e.g., Catholic Women’s League, Knights of Columbus) in your Family of Parishes know the mission the Family of Parishes? Do your Parish Pastoral Council and Finance Committee members know the Pastoral Plan of the Family of Parishes? Do our decisions, words and actions indicate an understanding of our mission?
