● DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY - APRIL 11, 2021

Most of us know – the Second Sunday being called the Divine Mercy Sunday. The church teaches that St. Faustina, a 20th century Polish nun, recorded revelations that she received from Jesus who, as she wrote in her diary, desired that “a Feast of Mercy be a refuge and shelter for all souls.” The readings tell the story of God’s abundant mercy and love for us. We ask for the grace to more clearly respond to these great signs and wonders of mercy and love that God continues to bestow on us and our world.

This weekend after each Mass there will be exposition of the Blessed Sacrament with special prayers to the Divine Mercy.

● LOCKDOWN - STAY AT HOME ORDER

For your information we would like to let you know that the Churches remain open for services and Masses and there is no change in the capacity limit of 15%. That includes funerals, weddings and other services.

● OUR LONG TIME CUSTODIAN - TAKING NEW CHALLENGES

We thank Jack Minielly for his 8 years of service at St. Patrick’s Church as he is redirecting his career. We wish Jack the best of luck in his new endeavours.

Divine Mercy Sunday - April 10/11, 2021

From a Homily of Pope Francis for Divine Mercy Sunday (2013)

My Lord and my God! (John 20:28)

In today’s Gospel, the apostle Thomas personally experiences the mercy of God, which has a concrete face, the face of Jesus, the risen Jesus. Thomas does not believe it when the other apostles tell him, ‘We have seen the Lord’. It isn’t enough for him that Jesus had foretold it. . . He wants to see; he wants to put his hand in the place of the nails and in Jesus’ side.

And how does Jesus react? With patience: Jesus does not abandon Thomas in his stubborn unbelief; he gives him a week’s time, he does not close the door, he waits. And Thomas acknowledges his own poverty, his little faith.

My Lord and my God! With this simple yet faith-filled invocation, he responds to Jesus’ patience. He lets himself be enveloped by divine mercy; he sees it before his eyes, in the wounds of Christ’s hands and feet and in his open side, and he discovers trust: he is a new man, no longer an unbeliever, but a believer. . .

Maybe someone among us here is thinking: my sin is so great, I am as far from God as the younger son in the parable, my unbelief is like that of Thomas; I don’t have the courage to go back, to believe that God can welcome me and that he is waiting for me, of all people. But God is indeed waiting for you; he asks of you only the courage to go to him. . .

Let us find the courage to return to his house, to dwell in his loving wounds, allowing ourselves to be loved by him and to encounter his mercy in the sacraments. We will feel his wonderful tenderness, we will feel his embrace, and we too will become more capable of mercy, patience, forgiveness and love.

My Lord and my God! Thank you for your unending mercy!

Holy God, Holy Mighty One, Holy Immortal One
Have Mercy on us and on the whole World
