● LOCKDOWN - ONTARIO is still under the lockdown restrictions.

Also there is a “stay at home order” - But the Churches and worshipping places are open for Masses and services - Capacity limits of 15% indoors. The same thing applies to funerals, weddings and Baptisms at the Church. We welcome you if you are well to celebrate with us in person or virtually by going to our website www.stpatrick.dol.ca. The dispensation from the Sunday obligation remains in place up to the Pentecost Sunday.

● POPE FRANCIS PROCLAIMS 2021 “YEAR OF ST. JOSEPH”

In a new Apostolic Letter entitled Partis Corde (“With a Father’s Heart”), Pope Francis describes Saint Joseph as a beloved father, a tender and loving father, an obedient father, an accepting father, a father who is creatively courageous, a working father, a father in the shadows.

● APRIL 25 - WORLD DAY OF PRAYER FOR VOCATION

The Fourth Sunday of Easter, Christians are invited to reflect on the meaning of God’s call and to pray for vocations. Christ, the Good Shepherd, continues to lead his people through His Bishops, Priests, and Deacons, and calls many to follow Him in this way. Priestly, diaconal, and religious vocations should be a constant concern in the hearts of God’s people.

3rd Sunday of Easter - April 17/18, 2021

Is Our Faith Up to the Challenge How has Covid-19 changed Faith?

“Through the last year, we have learned more about the ways in which we do, and do not, trust one another. We’ve seen how isolating and unjust life can become for some of us. We have seen again that society only functions well where the people and institutions are trustworthy, genuinely seeking the well-being of all. Through the pandemic, some people have lost faith and others have gained it. It has been a very isolating, painful experience for most people, but it also brought some groups of people closer together. I would say that the pandemic brought most religious communities closer together—certainly, not physically, but in terms of how clearly we see the needs of others and our common purpose in responding to that.”

Bishop Todd Townsend, Anglican Diocese of Huron.

“The Catholic faith has not changed during the pandemic. It is the same Jesus Christ, the same Gospel, the same good news about our salvation. I think we can see ways that we as Catholics have changed in living out our faith. Our faith has helped us during the pandemic to appreciate more deeply that the lives of all of us in our communities are woven together and sustained by ordinary people, people often overlooked—PSWs, caregivers, grocery store workers. We have become more aware of our brothers and sisters who are alone and isolated, especially during this pandemic, and how we must reach out and support them.”

Bishop Ronald Fabbro, Diocese of London.

“Faith may be a constant, but our relationship with faith has clearly changed. This is a typical individual process over one’s lifetime...but during and after the current pandemic, our communal or generational relationship with faith has come into sudden, simultaneous transformation...more than anything, online services and programs have reminded us how important the ‘IRL’ (in real life) experience is to community. Whether you are a hugger or not, you probably miss being with real live people walking around and talking. And, of course, the food—we Jewish communities love to gather together over food. We will eagerly embrace the opportunity to ‘nosh’ freely once again!”

Rabbi Debra Stahlberg Dressler, Temple of Israel of London.
